Moving Forward ...................................................................... 29
The Mijwan Welfare Society (MWS) was founded in 1993 by my father, Kaifi Azmi with the aim of creating a just and equitable community in his birthplace of Mijwan in the district of Azamgarh, Uttar Pradesh. He believed that real and meaningful progress could only be achieved by building sustainable rural communities. It has been my pleasure to continue his work, and see the impact grow over the last 18 years. The success of Mijwan is both scalable and replicable.

We have supported the community through 3 institutions – a high school and intercollege for girls, an embroidery centre for women, and a computer centre for the community. In addition MWS has promoted the development of infrastructure in and around Mijwan and encouraged values of equity and social justice through a variety of initiatives over the years.

While our programmatic work continues, this year our focus was to look inwards. We revisited our Strategic Objectives, and reorganised our current work with a long term perspective, developing a strong foundation on which future initiatives can be built keeping in mind meaningful impact. We thus reorganised our programs based on the core goals we wish to achieve, realigned our team, and revisited and documented our procedures and policies to move forward as a team.

We have also brought on board Vinod Kumar Pandey – our new CEO, who has helped us streamline our work in Mijwan, while also replicating our successes in other rural communities. I am confident that my experience from past work with various national and international NGOs will complement the already existent wealth of experience and knowledge of the MWS family. I greatly look forward to having the chance to contribute to the impact the organisation hopes to achieve, in both the short and long term.

I joined the organisation a few weeks before the Covid-19 outbreak. While this has been an unprecedented challenge for all, we approached it head on. In times of crisis, our shared responsibility becomes even more apparent; this was an important opportunity for us to support the communities we work with. Thus we have also included a summary of our relief work during the crisis in this Annual Report.

While the challenges posed by the health and economic crisis may last for some time, we will continue to plan for the future. I hope to build on the good work already done through MWS by striving to improve both the depth of our current work, and exploring ways in which we can create an even wider impact in the years to come.

Warm Regards,

With 27 years of experience, Mijwan Welfare Society is a pillar of support to local communities in Mijwan and its surrounding areas. I am excited to take on the role of CEO and intend to pursue it with the same dedication and focus that drives the team at MWS.

I am confident that my experience from past work with various national and international NGOs will complement the already existent wealth of experience and knowledge of the MWS family. I greatly look forward to having the chance to contribute to the impact the organisation hopes to achieve, in both the short and long term.

LETTERS FROM LEADERSHIP
An important step taken by us this year was the realignment of our strategic direction. We undertook a structured process involving stakeholders at all levels which included: strategic planning workshops, research and feedback from local stakeholders, and a workshop with the entire team to ensure overall alignment.

This resulted in the formulation of a new strategic plan which documents our strategy and guides our work over the next 5 years. An organisational handbook which details the operational structure, policies and procedures of the organisation has also been created.

Even as the ethos of what we hope to achieve remains unchanged, our re-articulated Vision, Mission and Goals highlighted below, aim to provide the organisation with greater clarity as we move forward.

Aditi Subedi

16 year old Aditi Subedi, born and brought up in Mijwan, had her first tryst with Bollywood when she walked the ramp at the Mijwan Fashion show with Shahrukh Khan and Anushka Sharma. The experience inspired her to become an actress and two years later she debuted in Baba Azmi’s feature film Mee Raqsam, for which she has won many accolades. Her success shows girls across rural Uttar Pradesh that, with the right exposure and opportunities, they too can achieve all of their dreams.

Kaifinama
(Directed by Sumantra Ghosal)

Kaifinama looks at the life and art of the Urdu Progressive poet Kaifi Azmi. Kaifi Azmi was both a poet for social change as well as one of the foremost lyricists in the Hindi film industry. Not content to limit himself to fine writing, he worked ceaselessly throughout his life as a catalyst for change among the disenfranchised. The film looks at his small town roots, his commitment to socialism, his wide-ranging body of work and the enormous changes he brought to the life of the village where he was born. Kaifinama thus is both the definitive film biography of Kaifi Azmi and a history of the times he illuminated with his genius.

We will continue to build on our existent programs and work to achieve our core goals in 2020-21. Additionally, the following are some new initiatives planned for the coming year.

1. Teaching Method at KAGIC
To allow for continued learning during the lockdown, KAGIC has adopted a new model of teaching: Record-Notes-Share-Feedback (RNSF). Teachers record their sessions and notes on an online platform, and share them with students who can view and respond on smart phones. Those students without smart phones receive handwritten notes as well as books and are supported through phone calls.

2. English School
With some stakeholders expressing an interest in an English-medium school, MWS is in the process of conducting a formal needs assessment to evaluate the requirement for the school.

3. Sports Academy
In addition to the Badminton Court, MWS is in the process of setting up a Sports Academy to promote various sports amongst rural youth.
